LEAD PENCIL JOTTINGS.

Memoranda Made in the Reporter's Wandering.

Local Splinters.

MONDAY.

—Otto Buchmann is in dead earnest about selling out and retiring from business in this city. He is now offering his real estate for sale, and will be seen by reference to another column of this paper.

—The cashier of the new bank, Mr. Joseph, will occupy Will H. Wheeler's residence on South Spanish street.

—New wheat, we understand, will start off at about eighty cents per bushel, but there is no telling how long that price will last.

—The temperance people will soon have cause to rejoice. We understand they will have an untimely advocate in the New Era, "good."

—We have been walking, talking, looking, begging for news, and we find our city as dry in this respect as a temperance lodge after adjournment.

—Do not miss the Lutheran School celebration on the 4th. Go, enjoy yourself, and help every one else do likewise.

—Our flour mills will soon be able to run day and night. The farmers have commenced threshing their wheat, and as prices are good, a large amount will be brought to market. The wheat crop while good, is not up to the calculations of a month ago.

—It appears that last Friday was an exceedingly hot day in the vicinity of Excelsior. Our young friend Harry T. Rood, was in that section on business. He states the sun was so hot it burned a hole in his buggy. We have known Harry for quite a while, and at no time since our acquaintance, would we, or could we think that he was a liar or would even associate with one; but in this instance we must certainly believe Harry is an excellent hand to stretch the blanket.

—William Rannan came down from St. Louis today. We understand that he and his brother Robert have purchased their father's cigar factory, and will take possession July 1st. The firm name will be Rannan Bros.

TUESDAY.

—The flying dutchman, or "merry-go-round," is with us once again. It will "fly around" on the same spot that it did when here last fall.

—The new bank officials are preparing to build their vault and furnish their banking house, and will have everything complete and in perfect running order by August 1st.

—Every man to his post, work early and late for the advancement and prosperity of the city. Don't say I have plenty, am doing well enough, and there is no necessity for extra exertion on my part. Be up and doing.

—There are a few breaks in the bend road, north of the bridge, which should be repaired at once. This road with north main street makes a splendid drive, and all repairs should be made promptly.

—We paid a visit to a large portion of our city today and found quite a number of buildings in process of erection. All are good substantial buildings, some in fact very substantial, and decided ornaments to the city.

—The farmers are now so very busy with their wheat and other crops that we find but few in the city. After wheat is threshed business will revive, and every one will wear a suit of contentment.

—The hog and cattle question seems to worry some of our respected citizens, and while the stock may be a nuisance, it may be that by close investigation we can find at the present time, some greater nuisance than either. Examine closely the alleys and other places of filthy deposit created by ourselves. These should be cleared away first, and then it will be time to take the hog by the ear, and cow by the horn and lead them out of the city.

—The steamer Idlewild arrived at noon bringing back the high-headed Republican editor of this paper—Democrat. Regret to state he appears to be crippled politically. We fear the Alliance men or Knights of Labor have given him a terrible shake-up during his absence. No matter, as soon as he rests a little and takes a dose of Democrats, he will be in his natural element and will recuperate rapidly.

—Edward H. Engelmann is the agent for the New York Plate Glass Insurance Company. The plate glass in show windows and store fronts are very costly and it is well to have them insured.

—A young lady of this city who parts her hair on one side of her head—she dubbed—has her name appear on a printed program part in the middle.

—We hear nothing more of the railroad or railroads building into our city. Have they been abandoned, or are the companies getting in shape to begin. Let us have more railroads, more factories, more people and more money.

—We have been asked our opinion of waterworks, to which we reply: They are much needed, and we will favor all improvements of whatever character, provided they can be distributed within the city that all may have equal justice. If this can be done we are for waterworks, electric lights, sewers and any other general improvements conducive to the advancement, prosperity and wealth of the city.

—A prominent merchant says: "I have sold Megrimine for over a year and guaranteed it to cure any headache without bad effects and have not found a single case it did not relieve. Sample free. The Dr. Whitall Megrimine Co., South Bend, Ind. Sold by druggists."

—We believe the New Era premature in mentioning the name of our worthy sheriff as a probable candidate for representative. Too soon, and too much work for our sheriff to be thinking of any other public position. While we recognize our sheriff as a rasher, we know he does not rush so early. Wait Colonel, wait.

—Judge McLain, of Indian Creek, father of Assessor McLain, is in the city. While we do not intend to disparage the son, the father is certainly the most handsome of the two.

—Megrimine cures any headache in 30 minutes. Sample free. The Dr. Whitall Megrimine Co., South Bend, Ind. Sold by druggists.

—You may talk about your clairvoyants, spiritual mediums, mind readers and all in parts of the country, but we have in our own midst one of the most remarkable mediums of all. He not only talks with the spirits of the dead, but sees them, both day and night, sees their condition, knows how they suffer, sleeps and eats with them, goes to church, to places of amusement, anywhere and everywhere in their company, knows the name of each, their exact location and their future prospects. If you do not believe this, call on Matt Morrison for further information.

WEDNESDAY.

—William Regenhart is putting a rock foundation in D. A. Glenn's new store building on which the cedar sleepers for the floor will rest.

—The funeral of Eliza J. Houts, which took place this morning was attended by a large number of our oldest citizens.

—Where are you going on the Fourth? Is a question we hear asked now every ten minutes.

—The old sign, "Courier Printing House," on the Arcade building, has been obliterated. A new sign for the Arcade saloon will soon take its place.

—The Kraft bakery has orders for eleven hundred loaves of bread, to be shipped to Delta and other points along the road for the Fourth.

—We took a walk last night up Harmony street, to take a look at the "dying dutchman," and were surprised to see such a large and orderly crowd of people as we found gathered there. The same gentlemen are with it now that were here last fall—and are just as courteous and obliging as ever.

—Megrimine is the only guaranteed permanent cure for headache and neuralgia. Relieves in 20 to 30 minutes. A great blood cleanser and stimulant that in time positively cures. Sample bottle free. The Dr. Whitall Megrimine Co., South Bend, Ind. Sold by druggists.

—Monday and Tuesday the Democrat was edited by Mr. J. G. Haydock, and we are pleased to say that the paper was very popular under his editorial management. Mr. Haydock is a gentleman of ability. He has had very little experience in the newspaper business, but the two days he had charge of the Democrat as editor, he showed that he is capable of performing editorial duty quite as readily as he is of handling the pen on a set of books.

—William Regenhart has the contract for building a vault for the new bank and he is now getting the stone on the ground. The vault will be completed in time for the bank to open up for business on the first of August. All the stock for the new corporation has been taken and there are quite a number of people here who wanted stock but spoke too late to get it.

—The colored folks will celebrate the 4th of August at Grand Tower, Illinois. An excursion train will run from this city on that day, and our colored people will all go on the excursion.

—The steamer Idlewild will take an excursion party from this city around to Paducah, Ky., Saturday. The boat will leave here at about 8 o'clock and returning will arrive here early Sunday morning.

—This is the dull season in the mercantile business and in order to make room for the fall and winter trade merchants will be selling at reduced prices for the next two months.

—Pete Carroll is plastering the rooms in the second story of the Hobbs' building.

—Edward D. Engelmann has been making some improvements in his law office building up on Broadway. He has put a new front in the building and made other changes that add quite a difference to the appearance of the house.

—Tuesday was payday on our railroad and Paymaster, Louis B. Houck went over the line and made the employees happy.

—The City Council will meet in regular session next Monday night.

—Timers are at work putting a new roof on John Gawronski's house. The insurance company settled with Mr. Gawronski for the loss he sustained in the recent fire in his building.

—English Spavin Liniment removes all Hard, Soft or Calloused Lumps and Blemishes from horses. Blood Spavin, Curbs, Splints, Sweeney, Ring Bone, Stiffles, Sprains, all swollen Throats, Coughs, etc. Save $50 by use of one bottle. Warranted the most Blemish cure ever known. Sold by Rider & Wichterich, Druggists, Cape Girardeau Mo.

—Had we the material and blacksmiths to do the work we would give our subscribers a curiosity. We would give them a facsimile copy of a paper that carries at its head for a motto the words: "I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness." It is a real curiosity of the nineteenth century.

—We have a new band in the city, the Ideal Band. If the music rendered is of the idealistic kind, what a pleasure it will be to hear it.

—The Missouri River is again rising rapidly. This will give us more water in the Mississippi, and steamboat men will be happy.

—The steamer Idlewild is surely the popular steamer in the line of packets that leave St. Louis for the south. She does not run very far south but she gets the business along the river as far as she does run. We came down from St. Louis on her the other day and we were surprised to see that she was doing so much business. She lands anywhere and everywhere, and the people along the river have learned that she is the boat to patronize because her officers are always ready to accommodate them.

—Rev. F. Wilmes and Rev. E. J. Leupkes, of St. Charles, Missouri, are in the city, the guests of Rev. E. Prange, of the German Catholic Church.

—Miss Minnie Stoffagen came down from St. Louis on the Idlewild Tuesday to visit relatives for a week or two.

—Mrs. Kroeck, nee Engelmann, came down from St. Louis on the Idlewild Tuesday to visit her parents and friends in this city. Her husband, Prof. Kroeck, is visiting his relatives in New York State.

—Mr. D. A. Glenn returned from a business trip to St. Louis, on the Anchor Line steamer, City of Monroe, at noon today.

—F. A. Kage returned home this afternoon from Stoddard county, where he had been on official business for Uncle Sam.

THURSDAY.

—Pat O'Hare is in jail at St. Louis charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. A Dexter lawyer was in the city this morning to see if he could find some one to go on O'Hare's bond for his appearance at the Circuit Court in Stoddard county.

—It is reported on the streets today that a man fell from a train on the St. Louis, Cape Girardeau and Ft. Smith road yesterday near Brownwood and was killed. We have tried hard to get some particulars about the accident but have been unable to do so.

—A man named T. J. Allen was arrested here last night by our local authorities on suspicion of being the man who is wanted in Mississippi county, Ark., for murder. Allen says he is not the man wanted, but he was locked up to await further developments.

—Letters of administration upon the estate of Eliza J. Houts were granted today to Ezra Peters.

—The painters will finish up the job of painting Mr. Ed. H. Engelmann's house this week and Mr. Engelmann will move into his handsome property about the 15th of this month.

—Otto Holm is painting a handsome sign on the Arcade Building. Mr. Holm is an artist with the brush. He is the best painter that ever struck this city. On sign work he is hard to beat.

—W. F. Rodney is building an addition to the building occupied by Mr. Powers as a photograph gallery. The whole building will be remodeled and the lower story fitted up for a furniture store for our young friend Phil A. Hoch.

—The Cape City Bottling Works, G. C. Thilenius proprietor, has been rushed this week with orders for their goods for the Fourth. The order received for pop soda alone, call for over five hundred dozen bottles.

—L. W. Bender is making quite a novelty in the way of a fortune wheel to be shot at with the target gun on the 14th at Willer's Grove.

—Work on W. H. Coerver's new residence has been pushed rapidly along; the brick work is completed and the carpenters have already made a good showing. It will be, when completed, one of the handsomest, largest and most substantial private residences in the city.

—The tallest man in town had on his good clothes early this morning and he is still dressed up. His best girl is here and we would not be surprised to receive a piece of wedding cake before Sunday night.

—The August term of the Circuit Court promises to be an interesting term. There will be seven criminal cases come up for trial at this term that will attract more than ordinary interest and they will draw a large crowd of people to Jackson.

ALL CAPTURED.

U. S. Officers Break up a Gang of Counterfeiters in Bollinger County.

The two men arrested in this city and taken to St. Louis turn State's Evidence.

We get the following particulars of the breaking up of the gang of Bollinger county counterfeiters from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat of Friday, June 26th:

"Last night United States Marshal Buchanan, Deputy United States Marshal McCune and Mr. J. F. McCullough, of the United States Secret Service, returned from a most successful raid in Bollinger county, where three counterfeiters were captured. The haul is the best and most far-reaching in its character that has been made in a long time. The counterfeiters formed a well-organized gang, holding the secret of their very fine forgery in one family, and they have undoubtedly flooded Southeast Missouri with their specie. Monday the authorities of Cape Girardeau, arrested Johnson Linbaugh and George Welker for passing counterfeit money, and on Tuesday, being arraigned in this city before United States Commissioner Crawford, they were held in bonds of $2,000 each. Seven $1 coins were found upon them, and when questioned as to where they got the money they stoutly maintained that they did not know where. The Federal authorities finally coerced both prisoners to turn State's evidence and free themselves of all responsibility by telling where they got the spurious coin. It was then made public to the authorities that in Bollinger county, Mo., out in the backwoods of the county, A. C. Green, J. C. Welker and J. B. Welker were conducting a plant on a pretty large scale. The local Federal authorities were at once notified, and last Tuesday evening Marshal Buchanan concluded to investigate, and with a posse went down to Bollinger county, and learned that Col. Green lived on Old Man Welker's farm. Repeating to this farm, up in the hills, John C. Welker, the father, Jacob B. Welker, a son, and A. B. Green were arrested and their houses searched. In Welker's house one coin, mill, or counterfeiter's outfit, was found, molds, spelter, bellows, ladders and crucible. A second complete mill was found in Green's house. There five molds, including a double one for dimes, were found for the manufacture of quarter-dollars, nickels and half-dollars. The molds were deftly made, framed by hinges and a catch. The frame work was of wood and the mold of plaster of paris. The metal used was an alloy of tin and the sulphide of antimony, and all the appliances for smoothing and milling the coin and then giving them the appearance of age were found among the traps. Alfred C. Green, who seems the leader of the gang, the machinist and chemist, is 81 years old. None of the men made any resistance to arrest, and old man Green declared he only made molds to sell, that he coined no money, and that he had a good field in his region of country for the sale of his molds. Being a gunsmith by trade he is an expert workman. He confessed to having sent the Welkers coin $100 in half dollars and dollars last Sunday, out in the woods, he being called to see if the metal worked well. There were dollars, half dollars, dimes and nickels found on the persons of the Welkers and in the houses, and Detective McCullough made a search around Lutesville and picked up a score of nickels and several bogus dollars that had been issued by the Bollinger county mint. Green, the artisan of the gang, is an old offender. He confesses to having killed two men in Centralia, Ill., on November 25, 1865, for which he was sent to Joliet, but was subsequently pardoned by Gov. Oglesby. Although 81 years old, Green is still an adept engraver. He has a wife, but no children. Welker is a married man, and has nine children. Green did not pretend to be engaged in any particular business, but Welker conducted his farm with the assistance of his son. The capture is considered as very important, as the southeast part of the State has been flooded with bogus coins since the beginning of the year. It is not known how long the trio has been engaged in the manufacture of the coin, but the Federal authorities learn that the State is flooded with coin in the vicinity of Bollinger county. It is expected that old man Green will tell of others to whom he has sold his molds. The three men will be arraigned before United States Commissioner Crawford today."

The weather for July.

According to Hicks, the weather for July will be as follows: Storms in progress at the opening of July will wind up to the east about the 2d. About the 5th and 6th, a low barometer will cause an oppressive, warm wave. The presence of the new moon added will cause storms on the 5th to 6th. Cooler air and fresh breeze will bring a "breathing spell" until about the 10th, when it will begin to grow very warm, culminating in excessively high temperature and storms about the 11th, 12th and 13th. Note the 12th and 13th. Another "breathing spell" may intervene before the reactionary movements on and next to the 17th. From the 23d to the 26th is the next period of storm and change. Among the hottest days of the month will be the 26th and 27th.

Lumber for Sale Cheap.

"Should Stay With Him."

The Register, published at Ironton, Mo., has the following to say about Mr. Louis Houck, President of the St. L. C. & F. S. railroad in connection with a suit brought by him against the Willow Springs and Current River railroad for charging excessive freight rates:

"Mr. Louis Houck, President of the Cape Girardeau Southwestern Railroad has brought suit against the Willow Springs and Current River Railroad alleging excessive and unfair charges in freight rates. Mr. Houck's road connects with the Current River Road at Hunter and his allegations are that the defendant company discriminates against him by excessive charges on freight forwarded or received from that road. That is, the Current River folk want to 'freeze' Mr. Houck out. The Railroad Commissioners are making a full investigation, and we have no doubt they will find the facts about as Mr. Houck relates them. Louis Houck is the best friend Southeast Missouri ever had and the people should 'stay with him.'"

THEY WANT IT TOO.

The Mammoth Spring (Ark.) Democrat, which made its first appearance on the 25th inst., has the following to say about the "Houck Road":

"The early completion of the 'Houck Road,' now known as the St. Louis, Cape Girardeau & Fort Smith, from Cape Girardeau to Mammoth Spring, is now considered a settled fact. This will give us a more direct route to St. Louis and other good markets, will lighten freights, and what is best of all, perhaps, will bring within our reach the vast pineries of 'Irish Wilderness.' Let it come. Mammoth Spring's railroad experience, although heretofore limited to one road, has been so pleasant that another, or a dozen more, will be most cordially welcomed."

Our City.

It is evident that our thriving city is enjoying a substantial boom. This boom must not be permitted to relax. It must be continued in some shape. We want a gradual increase. Too much haste makes waste. A steady advance is what we need. To have this we must have factories. We need a canning factory on a large scale. We have a broom factory, but we want a large one. These two could be supplied with material from the surrounding country; would add a new impetus to agriculture, add more wealth and population to the city and with other factories which could be established, and which it is hoped will be established here, will add greatly to the wealth and prosperity of the city. The citizens should talk factories day and night. They should never rest while there is any hope, and there is hope, as long as life lasts.

Pork packing is in its infancy and should be largely increased, not only the drying, but the pickling process. This should be inaugurated and large amounts of pork pickled. This would bring and increase the demand for coopers, material and labor. Too many hogs go from this section of country to St. Louis. The greater part should be put up here, and we hope to see the time when this will be a large industry in our city. There need be no excuse on account of capital. If the packers have not a sufficient amount it can be obtained at reasonable figures.

A Missouri Centennial.

We have often read or heard of old people, but do not think that our readers have ever heard tell of an old lady known as "Grandma Harper," who lives in Princeton, Mercer Co., in the northern part of this State. She will be 102 years old the 27th day of next September and is totally blind. She has four sons living aged 75, 65, 62 and 56 years. She has four daughters living, aged 81, 79, 58, and one 62, who is twin with the son who is 62. Five of her children are dead, three sons and two daughters. The first to die was 52 years old at the time of death. She is a native of Virginia, belongs to the Baptist Church, was baptized 75 years ago at Big Springs, Va. She has over 600 living descendants, and is drawing $8 per month from the Government. Pension for the services her husband did in the war of 1812. Each year her children and friends meet with her at her home on her birthday and have a family reunion. She has nursed the fifth generation.

Southeast Missouri Teachers' Association.

The fifteenth annual session of the Southeast Missouri Teachers' Association will be held at Charleston, August 18, 19 and 20, 1891. The program is very interesting, but rather too lengthy for us to publish. The annual address will be delivered by Missouri's eloquent orator, Hon. Marshall Arnold. Hon. J. J. Russell, of Charleston, will make the address of welcome, which will be responded to by Prof. J. T. Barnard, of this city. Prof. R. C. Norton is down for a lecture besides taking part in a discussion. Other of our teachers are on the program as follows: Prof. J. S. McGhee takes part in a discussion, also Prim. T. E. Joyce, Prof. W. D. Vandiver and C. M. Hall. The Misses May Greene, Belle Greene and B. L. Chappe are also down on the program for taking parts in discussions. The Mo. Pacific railroad will sell tickets for one and one-third fare for the round trip. The officers of the Association are: President, B. F. Lusk, of Oak Ridge. Secretary, Miss Ida Bridwell, of Charleston. Treasurer, L. W. Morton, of Jackson.

Marriage is Not a Failure.

Now we know that marriage is not a failure. We have been there for twenty-two long years and we have had no inkling yet to indicate that there is any failure in the business. We are the daddy of grown children—daughters and a son, and now our son has gone and done it, too—that is to say, he has followed the example set for him by his illustrious father—married young—gone forth to replenish the earth and do good for humanity. That's what we are here for. This is the first wedding we have had in our family. We are now father-in-law to a young lady of whom we are proud, for we have known her from childhood up and we know that she will prove to be a kind, true and loving wife.

May the happy young couple live forever, is the wish of the Democrat.

Advice to Young Men.

There is a growing restlessness among the young farmers of this country. Not content with their situation, they begin to look for a better and fairer land as soon as they arrive at manhood. The old farm is left behind for a cattle ranch, an orange grove, a cotton plantation, a great wheat farm or for the factory or store in the great cities, and the happiness and heart felt comfort of early life on the farm is forgotten. But the chances are that the young man will see his mistake sooner or later and heartily wishes himself back on the old homestead. No class of men should become so attached to the land which constitutes their home as a farmer, for he not only lives upon it, but food and drink comes to him from it and he learns to read each foot of its surface as men learn to read books. His children are born upon it, they grow up to manhood and womanhood receiving health and strength and the nourishment of their bodies from it, so that they verify partake of the soil and it becomes a part of them. Young man, stand by the farm, whether it be in the east, west, north or south, of this great country. It has been a friend to you in the past, and will still continue to provide generously for you if you will give it a chance.—Ec.

A Pleasant Surprise.

This is the verdict of Mr. I. W. Fall, 321 Seventh street, Paducah, Ky., who said that if his little girl had had another congestive chill she would have died. This is what he writes us: "I have used your Lemon Chill Tonic in my family and find it all you claim. The medicine has no bad taste, but is deliciously flavored. My little daughter, who suffered for some time with chills and fever, watched the clock in pleasant anticipation of the next dose. Lemon Chill Tonic not only does away with the bitter and nauseating mixtures usually prescribed for ague, but effects a speedy and permanent cure. I very gladly testify to the merit of a medicine which I have seen used in my family with such signal success." Take no other. Price 50 cents. For sale by Miller & Wilson, Cape Girardeau and Ben. Schwab, Dutchtown, Mo.

"They Talk Too Much."

An exchange hits some people pretty squarely, when it says, "they talk too much." Circumstances sometimes point, (in the opinion of some) to the fact that a great wrong has been committed—and then—all sorts of rumors are set afloat in the town, and with each repetition of the story, something is always added, until the one who first told it would scarcely recognize his "innocent tale" in the great scandal that is on every one's lips. People are easily excited; they do not investigate what they have been told before they repeat it, and thus, perhaps unintentionally, place a blemish upon the character of some good person, who may be perfectly innocent of the charges preferred against him. It is a bad habit—this talking too much about persons and things that you know perhaps (if the truth were told) you know little about. Let a person be suspected of some wrong act, and it will follow him to his grave. Let him go where he will, the ever-ready tongue of slander will be "wagging" forth its poisoned words—"something queer about that fellow," "wonder what she's doing here," "have you heard what they tell about her in—?" etc. These questions appear to be very innocent and harmless, and so they might be, if they would rest here; but once started they never stop until they have stained or forever ruined the good name and reputation of one who perhaps never knew of vile deeds with which he stands accused. Better investigate before you "talk too much;" better let a hundred wrong-doers off easy than to place an indelible stain upon the character of one good, upright man who is doing his best to fill the position in life for which he thinks himself fitted.

Heir to $200,000.

New York, Nov. 26th.—A dis- was received yesterday from Baltimore announcing that Geo. H. Beiser, of Brooklyn, had become heir to a vast estate there, valued at $200,000. The property came through relatives who emigrated from France in the days of the Huguenots. Mr. Beiser is an accountant in a Fulton street clothing house. Bruce's Law and Inquiry Agency, of Chicago, Ill., presented his claim.—Louisville Courier Journal, Nov. 27.

We are Mr. Beiser's lawyers, and by him seeing our advertisement, became the agents of his good fortune. If your ancestors came from the old country, write to us and inclose $1 for our list of heirs. There are more than half a billion dollars in Great Britain and Germany, unclaimed, which rightly belong to people in the United States. BRUCE'S LAW AND INQUIRY OFFICE, 164 and 166 Randolph St., Chicago, Ill., U. S. A.

Will Erect a Fine New Building.

The stockholders in the Stoddard Bank have concluded that the business of that old and solid banking house is deserving of a larger, better and more modern building than is now occupied by the bank and they propose to pull down the old house and erect a building to cover the entire lot from Main street back to the alley. The building is to be a three-story structure, fire-proof. Mr. J. B. Legg, of St. Louis, is now drawing the plans and specifications for the building, and we understand that he has been instructed to leave nothing off that would add to the beauty and convenience of a modern bank building.

Found Almost Dead.

This is the condition many persons were in when they commenced the use of the "Lemon Chill Tonic." But thanks to its magic power the same people have been restored to perfect health—chills entirely broken; appetite restored, the blood circulated, the old languid and tired feeling gone. And while pleasant to take is certain to cure. Each bottle is guaranteed to break the worst chill and with guarding the 7th and 14th days, will prevent their return. Sold by Miller & Wilson, Cape Girardeau and Ben. Schwab, Dutchtown, Mo.

New Mill for Sale.

A splendid saw mill, complete in every respect and located where there is plenty of timber, is offered for sale at a great bargain. Owner has more business than he can attend to is his reason for wanting to sell. For further particulars call at this office.

Notice.

Monday, July 6, '91, I will be at my office in the city of Cape Girardeau, for one day only, to consider propositions to buy any or all of the real estate I own in this city, on long time and low interest. Residence open for inspection until that date.

To My Customers.

I take this method of informing my old and new customers that I have sold my cigar factory to my two sons, Robert and William, who from now on will conduct the business formerly done by me. I also wish to thank my customers for the liberal patronage which they extended to me and hope that my sons may by fair dealing and excellent goods merit a continuance of the same. CHRIST BAUMANN.
